DABMs Working Group:
• The BMD Working Group finished reviewing the rough draft of their document on 2 March. It was agreed that the document as originally formatted lacked forcefulness and cohesion. The major problems were the repetitive nature of various recommendations and the lack of substance in the Results section. The report is being reformatted, a draft Preface and Executive Summary have been prepared, and work is under way on the Key Judgments and Recommendations sections for the front end of the report. Target date for smooth draft is 16 March.
China Working Group:
• The Chairman of the Working Group and CIPC staff are midway through drafting of a consolidation report based on separate inputs produced by the three subgroups, These inputs have turned out to be very disappointing in organization and content. Moreover, they do not on most points represent broadly based contributions from subgroup members. The result is that considerably more work will be necessary to forge a consolidated report out of the subgroup papers than was anticipated. Failure to achieve subgroup consensus could also cause the full Working Group review phase to be more contentious and protracted than was anticipated. Together, these factors suggest that slippage beyond the already announced four weeks could become necessary to achieve a fully coordinated Working Group report to the CIPC.
• CT, worked during the week in the role of assistant to and in the production of the study. has provided suggestions, has rewritten parts of the report, and has condensed and reformatted other sections of it.
